Personal Summary:

As former armament and advanced weaponry technical personnel (5 years) and after completing full combat service in the Israel Navy, I am experienced in team management, working under time pressure, quick adaptability, and meticulous attention to detail. Throughout my service on the Navy's missile boats in the field of naval artillery, I acquired technical skills and worked with heavy equipment, in addition to professional dialogue management with senior commanding officers in the system. My passion for exceeding performance metrics aligns with strong communication skills and a natural ability to lead.

Innovation, technical expertise, and collaborative leadership are what you can expect when working with me.

Technical Skills:

- Extensive experience in dialogue with military personnel
- High-level English proficiency
- Experience and expertise in heavy machinery
- Technical knowledge in computers and technology
- Capacity to adapt to new technologies and systems quickly
- Ability to explain and instruct diverse population groups
- Extensive knowledge and experience in light weapons and artillery in the Navy

2019-2022

- Providing ongoing support to all ships at the Haifa base in the field of the Typhoon cannon and various computerized weapon systems.
- Conducting professional inspections and preventive maintenance on cannons and launchers aboard ships.
- Supervising and commanding level repairs on cannons in the Navy's shipyard.
- Leading a front-line technical team at the Haifa base of the Navy.

Israeli Navy (IDF): Career service. Navel and Armament specialist NCO / Senior Naval Combatant. 915 Brigade

2022-2024

The role of the weapons and Navel armament specialist NCO encompasses titles such as Senior Naval Combatant and expertise in seamanship, two broad areas dealing with naval warfare and the development of naval capabilities on ships, as well as focusing on knowledge dissemination and training in advanced combat means existing on Navy ships

Additionally, I have been involved in:

- Leading the operational drone domain in the brigade, where I trained and certified soldiers in drone usage and facilitated the integration of new drone models into the 915 Brigade.
- Serving as the key figure in the 915 Brigade for the Typhoon mini cannon.
- Overseeing the main management of all types of armament allocations for ships.
